POPS QUESTION AND IS ENGAGED

President Wilson Will Be Married in December.

FIANCEE MRS. NORMAN GALT

Announcement of Betrothal Is Made at White House and Creates Surprise in All Washington Circles. Future White House Mistress Is a Beautiful Woman and Comes From Virginia.

Washington, Oct. 7.—President Wilson's engagement to Mrs. Norman Galt of Washington was announced in the following statement at the White House:

"The announcement was made of the engagement of Mrs. Norman Galt of this city and President Woodrow Wilson."

The wedding will take place in December, but whether it will be celebrated at the White House, or at the home of the bride-elect, has not been determined, it is said.

The announcement by Secretary Tumulty, that the president is to marry, was a sensational surprise in all Washington circles. The engagement had been kept a strict secret within the White House family circle and few even of the president's most trusted advisers believed that the marriage would take place for many months.

It is understood that the president has been affianced to Mrs. Galt for a very short time, possibly only a week or ten days.

Mrs. Galt is a beautiful woman of a distinct brunette type. She is about thirty-eight years old and comes from Virginia, the president's home state. The president met her less than a year ago, not very long after the White House abandoned social activities because of the death of Mrs. Wilson.

Friend of His Daughters.

He made her acquaintance as one of the intimates of his daughters, Miss Margaret Wilson, and Mrs. McAdoo, and their cousin, Miss Bones. Once the president had been impressed with the beauty and charm of Mrs. Galt he pressed his addresses with all the ardor of a young man. Mrs. Galt witnessed the naval review in New York in May from aboard the presidential yacht, the Mayflower, where she was a guest of Miss Margaret Wilson.

At that time rumors were afloat that the president had developed a strong liking for Mrs. Galt and that another White House romance was to be anticipated.

Later, Mrs. Galt went for a visit at Harlakenden House, at Cornish, N. H., the summer home of President Wilson, and for a month or more she was the house guest of Miss Margaret Wilson, the president's eldest daughter. The president made two visits to Cornish during Mrs. Galt's stay. It was then, as Washington understands it, that the romance developed. They took long drives together in the big White House touring car in the beautiful mountain country of Vermont and New Hampshire.

LOVE VERDICT SET ASIDE

Washington Man Wins New Trial in Breach of Promise Suit.

Augusta, Me., Oct. 7.—A finding by the full bench of the supreme court grants a new trial in the breach of promise proceedings of Miss Elizabeth Garmong of Bangor, formerly of Des Moines, Ia., against John B. Henderson, a wealthy resident of Washington.

On Jan. 27 Miss Garmong was awarded a verdict of $116,000 by a jury at Bangor.

The receipt sustains the plea of Henderson's counsel that the verdict was against the evidence.

REPLY IS UNSATISFACTORY

Russia Breaks Diplomatic Relations With Bulgaria.

London, Oct. 7.—A dispatch to Reuters' Telegram company from Sofia, sent by way of Petrograd, says:

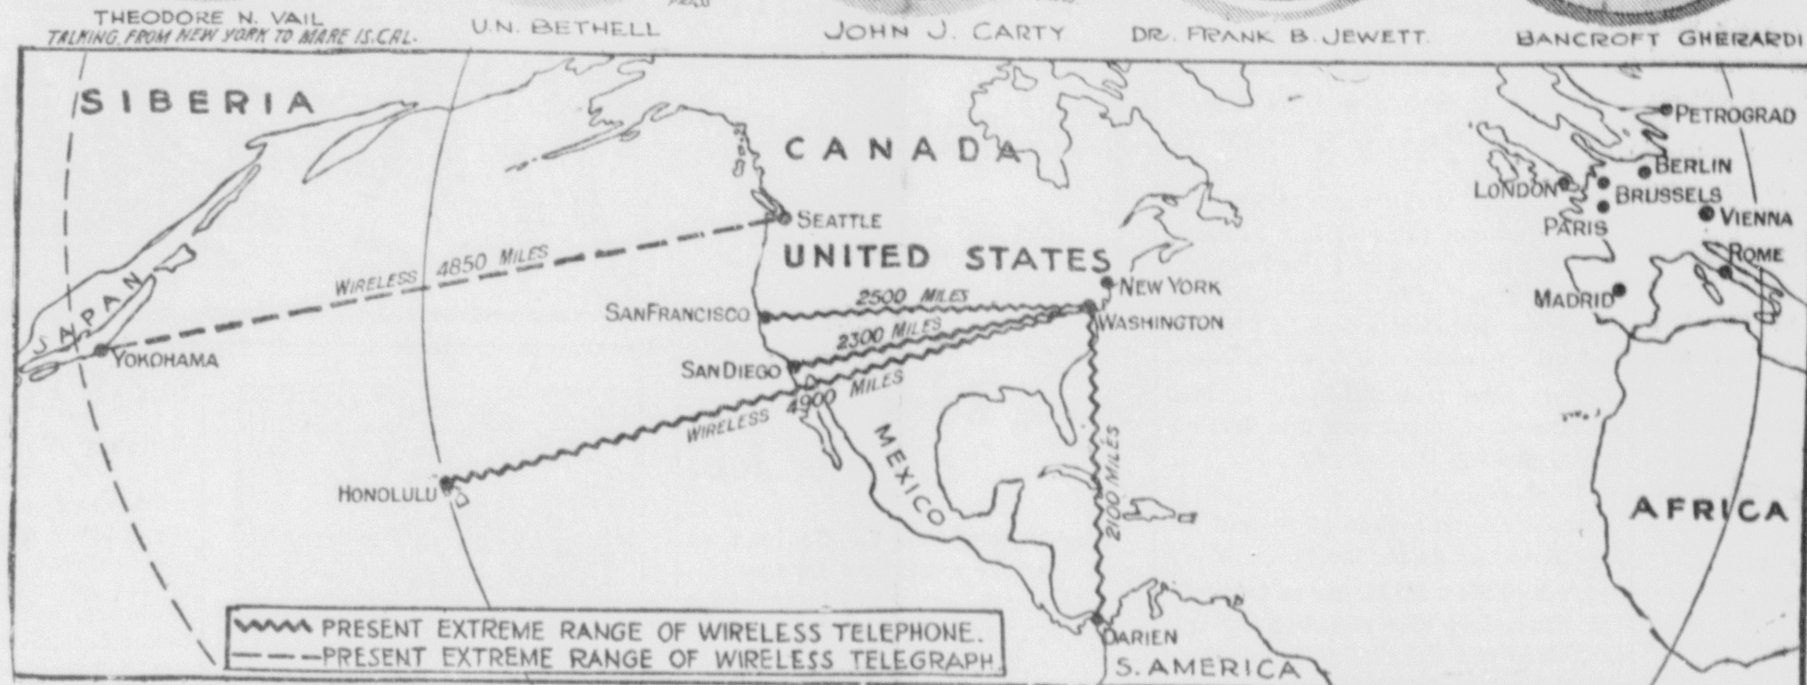

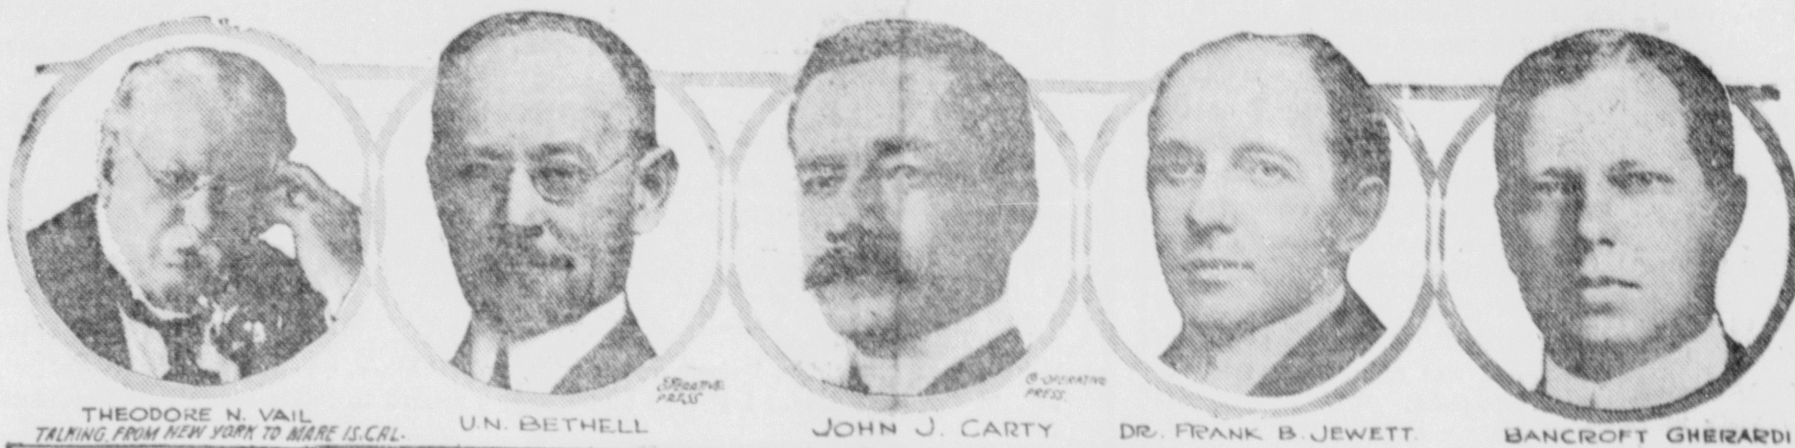

"Bulgaria's reply to the Russian ultimatum is unsatisfactory. The Russian minister has notified Premier Radoslavoff of a rupture of diplomatic relations between the two countries. "Russian interests in Bulgaria have been confined to the Dutch charge d'affaires."

"Bulgaria's reply was delivered at 2:40 p. m. Oct. 5 (Tuesday)."

Wireless Telephony 4,600 Miles and Men Who Discovered Method

The most important scientific discovery of an age was made when the officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company telephoned without wires the other day from Washington to Hawaii, a distance of 4,600 miles, and from New York to the Mare Island Navy Yard in San Francisco Bay, a distance of nearly 3,000 miles.

This map shows the shortest lines between these points.

Experiments in telephoning across the Atlantic have been made, but have not yet proved successful. The telephone officials said only conditions due to the war have made this use of the wireless 'phone impossible up to this time, for the difficulties of sending word across the Atlantic are not so great as telephoning without wires across the United States.

Mr. Vail is president of the telephone company which has made this discovery possible. Mr. Bethell, the vice president, has been hard at work on it, while Mr. Carty, the chief engineer, has been giving most of his time to the subject. Dr. Jewett of the Western Electric company and Mr. Gherardi of the telephone company have done most of the experimenting.

CHARLTON TRIAL DELAYED

Frenzied American Rattles Iron Barred Dock.

Como, Italy, Oct. 7.—Porter Charlton, nervous and depressed, is back in his cell to remain for twelve days more. Over his vigorous objection his trial for the murder of his wife, Mary Scott Charlton, was suddenly adjourned to Oct. 18, only a few hours after it was opened.

The adjournment was ordered on motion of Charlton's new counsel, Midhepe Picardi, who asked time to study some of the records in the case. But the young American himself, his lips twitching, rattled the bars of the iron cage in which he was caged in the courtroom and begged the judge to grant no postponement.

Ardmore, Okla., Oct. 7.—The deaths and injuries caused by an explosion of gasoline here the afternoon of Sept. 27 "were caused through negligence of the Santa Fe railroad company and its employees, but said negligence was not felonious," according to a verdict returned by the coroner's jury.

(By United Press)

Washington, Oct. 7.—President Wilson, with his fiancée, Mrs. Norman Galt, Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, Dr. Gary Grayson and Secretary Tumulty leave tomorrow for New York where they will attend a house party at the home of Colonel House.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The White House is swamped on account of the announcement of the engagement of President Wilson to Mrs. Norman Galt, the widow of a Washington jeweler. The most high and the most obscure citizens are telegraphing their congratulations.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Galt is described as a very beautiful woman, slightly above the average in feminine height and not as tall as President Wilson. She has dark blue eyes, is erect and has a beautifully rounded figure.

Washington, Oct. 7.—"I am very happy," was all Mrs. Galt would say when asked for an interview. She said all else would be reported at the White House, and that the date was not as yet decided upon.

Washington, Oct. 7.—A real American of royal blood, and a descendant of Pocahontas, the Indian princess, will become the president's wife. Mrs. Galt is proud of the fact that she is a descendant of the ninth generation from the marriage of John Rolfe and Pocahontas, and she will bring to the White House the first touch of real Indian royal blood. It is officially stated that the wedding will be very quiet and will occur at Mrs. Galt's home early in December. President Davidson of the San Diego Exposition is here and has asked President Wilson to attend the exposition on his honeymoon.

CONSTANTINE IS OPPOSED TO WAR

Greek King Will Not Consent to Aid Servia.

FRENCH CONTINUE LANDINGS

Troops Will Be Poured Into Greece and Proceed to the Aid of Servia and, if Necessary, Against Bulgaria and the Teutonic Allies, Regardless of the Crisis at Athens.

London, Oct. 7.—Although there is heavy fighting on the western and eastern battle fronts the latest moves on the diplomatic chess board in the Balkans—moves which admittedly will have an important bearing in the great world war game—are holding the attention of the universe.

Divided by the avowed determination of the king of Greece not to assent to the ultimate policy of Premier Venizelos and a majority of the parliament that Greece should come to the aid of Servia, her treaty ally, the populace of the Hellenic kingdom has taken sides for and against the war, King Constantine and his followers for the moment, at least, being in the ascendancy.

French troops will continue to land in Greece and proceed through the country to the aid of Servia and, if need be, against Bulgaria and the Teutonic allies, regardless of the Greek crisis.

Whether King Constantine will be able to keep his country out of the meshes of the war against the wishes of the followers of Venizelos is still to be answered. Behind Constantine is said to be the Greek general staff and the court party.

Romania's policy has not yet been announced. Her troops continue mobilizing along the Bulgarian boundary, however, and a fact that may be entirely outside her ultimate plans is found in a new Russian attack against the Austrians in Bukovina, near the northern Romanian frontier, where hostilities had been in abeyance for a long time.

LABOR MEN ISSUE APPEAL

Need 30,000 Recruits Weekly for the British Army.

London, Oct. 7.—An appeal for recruits for the British army was issued by the authorized representatives of the three national committees of trades unions, the parliamentary committee, the General Federation of Trades Unions committee and the executive committee of the Labor party.

The manifesto declares that tens of thousands of men of military age and fitness have not yet joined the colors. "Thirty thousand recruits weekly," the appeal declares, "must be raised to maintain the efficiency of our armies and secure such a victory as will free the world from the fear of that militancy which Germany would impose upon it."

SUPPOSED SUICIDE HAS TWO WOUNDS IN HEART.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 7.—Butte authorities are wrestling with the problem of whether it is possible for a man committing suicide to fire two bullets through his heart. The body of Robiano Giacomini, a youth, was found in a vacant lot with two bullet holes through his heart. A revolver lay near his body with two chambers empty. A note unsigned said it was the writer's intention to kill himself, as he was lonely and weary of the world. It is supposed to be a case of suicide, but officers are investigating.

NOTE HELD SORT OF VICTORY

London Paper Says Wilson Avoided Eating His Words.

London, Oct. 7.—Commenting on the German note on the Arabic Evening Standard says President Wilson has won "a sort of victory," but that an analysis shows that matters remain about where they were.

"Superficially," says the Standard, "it might seem to constitute a considerable triumph for the slow but pertinacious diplomacy of Dr. Wilson. He has succeeded in his main object of keeping clear of warlike complications without eating his words or compromising his dignity or his courage. Nevertheless, the Lusitania incident is still unsettled and there is not the smallest guarantee for the future—apart from the British fleet."

MANY FAIL TO GET BONDS
Small Subscribers to Foreign Loan Are Disappointed.

New York, Oct. 6.—The amount of oversubscription to the $500,000,000 Anglo-French bond issue, it was said authoritatively, is appreciable in the number of subscribers, but not considerable in terms of dollars and cents.

Most of these subscribers came in for relatively small amounts. With the closing of the underwriters' books it was announced that the total of all subscriptions will not be made public.

It was learned that the six largest applications alone took care of $100,000,000 of the issue.

The largest subscription was for $25,000,000, the next was for $20,000,000, the third for $15,000,000 and the next three for $10,000,000 each. The identity of these subscribers was not revealed.

Getting Ready for Winter Jobs

Washington, Oct. 7.—So long as good weather continues in the fall most farmers are so busy with threshing, corn and potato harvest, fall seeding, hauling, etc., that less important work is usually postponed until winter. However, the exercise of a little thought and the expenditure of a very few minutes at this season will often save not only hours but days later on when the weather and roads get bad and outdoors work is impossible.

Then the odd jobs of overhauling the farm equipment, repairing, painting, etc., which have been put off until a slack season, will require attention. But all too often the necessary materials will not be on hand, and the work will be delayed until it is possible to make a trip to town, and not infrequently it remains undone until the busy season the following year, when necessity demands it.

A list should be made of the things that will be wanted for this work. It will only take a few minutes to jot them down as they are brought to mind, and then on the next trip to town they may be bought and set aside so they will be ready when wanted. The conditions of the different machines which will, or should be, overhauled should be noted, and the parts which will need to be replaced purchased. Then there are the odd jobs of repairing buildings, fences, gates, etc., which will require lumber and nails; there is no need to make an extra trip for them when wanted—they may be brought home the next time a load is taken to town. Likewise, the lumber and hardware for the small jobs of construction which should be done before spring. Also the paints, oils, putty and brushes which will be required in painting the various farm wagons, implements, inside woodwork, furniture, etc. And, above all, the necessary materials for the improvements you have been planning for the house should be obtained so that they can be completed this winter and not have to wait another year.

Everyone knows how much more satisfactory it is to have the necessary equipment ready to perform a piece of work when an opportunity presents, than to get started on it and then find that it will have to be postponed until a trip can be made to town, which, even if the roads are good and the trip can be made at once, means a loss of time and added expense.

It is astonishing how much can be accomplished on rainy days or during slack times, when the tools and materials are at hand, and there should be no difficulty in overhauling practically every implement on the farm during the winter season, and have them ready for next season's work. The value of these "stitches in time" is frequently out of all proportion to the small amount of time they require. Aside from the satisfaction of having each implement in first-class shape when it is needed, there is the actual saving accomplished by avoiding having horses and hired help standing idle while repairs are being made, which, in turn, frequently means a loss of part of a crop.

It is useless to go into detail concerning the many jobs which can be accomplished with profit the winter months; there are plenty of them which will occur to the farmer who will spend a few minutes in considering the matter.

FLORENCE REED

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"Trail of Lonesome Pine"
Reviewing "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" at the Brainerd opera house Saturday evening, Oct. 16, Harlow Gale of the Minneapolis Daily News says:

"It is a good thing for us city dwellers to be taken up to view the wide horizon and natural grandeur of the Tennessee mountains and to live a while amid the instinctive and intense primitive life of the mountain moonshiners. Their bloody family feuds, their pride and loyalty to their own kin, their suspicion of 'foreigners,' the primitive intensity of their loves and jealousies—all these untamed traits of Southern blood have made the novel of John Fox, Jr., widely popular and Eugene Walter's stage adaptation of 'The Trail of the Lonesome Pine' a simple and strong picture of mountain freedom and bondage.

The characteristic Sunday night audience of holiday young people followed this straightforward story at the Metropolitan last evening with palpating hearts. The naive imagination and love of a barefooted mountain girl in 'June,' her touching effort to educate herself to be worthy of her engineer stranger idol, her gently spreading of the newly found sweetness and light among her fierce kin, and her final reward in winning her foreign lover were all beautifully pictured by Ruth Copley. She has made this pathetic role very much of an American classic. Such genuine womanly instincts of affection and trust, of pride and gentleness are an inspiration to behold amid the heartless insincerities of our artificial city life.

The engineer lover and his young business partner, whose exploration of the natural resources of the mountains led them to be also natural missionaries of civilization, were well done by Wm. Wells and Jos. Rieder. The passionate tension of the moonshiners were strongly shown by Jas. P. Houston and Thos. V. Morrison as the father and cousin-lover of June. This melodramatic strain was occasionally relieved by the humorous and romping sides of mountain nature in the pipe-smoking old woman of Beatrix Litten and in the spasmodically lively young couple in Richard Riley and Ray Kehm.

With the fine mountain scenery, it will interest Minneapolisians to hear the very appropriate overture and incidental music as the composition of Wm. Warville Nelson. The play can occupy the Metropolitan stage only during the first half of the week because of the enormous scenic preparations for Wm. A. Brady's colossal melodrama "Life," which comes to us direct from New York and Chicago and opens Saturday evening."

SEEKS REVENUE INCREASE

Secretary McAdoo Decides on Two Requests to Congress.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Retention of the present duty on sugar until conditions become normal and extension of the emergency tax law until the European war is over are two revenue measures which the administration has decided to ask from congress at the coming session.

Secretary McAdoo announced he will recommend the necessary legislation and it is understood President Wilson is in accord with the plan.

Retention of the duty on sugar, which goes on the free list on May 1, 1916, unless congress acts, would give the treasury about $50,000,000 a year. The emergency tax is counted upon to produce about $100,000,000 a year.

DRY PENALTY LAW UPHELD

Colorado Court Declares Prohibition Measure Valid.

Denver, Oct. 7.—The prohibition penalty law enacted by the last legislature to enforce the statewide prohibition constitutional amendment was upheld in the district court. The court ruled adversely on the application of the wets to mandamus John E. Ramer, secretary of state, to place the law on the ballot at the 1916 general election on a referendum vote.

WOMAN'S REALM

MRS. JOHN HUGHES DEAD

Well Known Brainerd Lady, Warm Hearted and Charitable, Died of Pneumonia This Morning

Following an illness of four days, Mrs. Mary Hughes, wife of John Hughes died this morning of pneumonia. She was a woman of rare qualities, beloved by her friends and her charitable work, carried on unostentatiously, brought joy and comfort to many a home. She leaves a husband and no children. A sister, Mrs. James Finerty, resided in Brainerd.

Mrs. Hughes was born March 17, 1859 in Hamilton, Ontario, Canada. She was the daughter of John H. and Margaret O'Rourke. In Hamilton she was married to Mr. Hughes on February 12, 1878. They removed later in 1879 to Flint, Michigan, and in 1880 to Chicago. They came to Brainerd in 1881.

Mrs. Hughes was a devoted member of St. Francis Catholic church and attended church regularly. The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from the church, Rev. Father J. J. O'Mahoney officiating.

The sympathy of the community is extended the family in its sad bereavement.

"Creation"

An audience which completely filled the Brainerd opera house witnessed the ten reel offering "Creation," and saw pictured the rise of the earth from the gaseous period, the garden of Eden, events of Biblical history and on down the ages to the present with a glimpse of the future.

A lecture was also given and the Victrola's musical selections accompanying were of a high order. The presentation of "Creation" was under the auspices of the Bachelor Maids and the splendid house was a testimonial to their efforts and also shows the interest people take in the work of the organization.

Reputation.

Reputation is what enables you to get along in this world when you haven't any character.—Puck.

FOR NEW TEACHERS

Are Cordially Invited to be Guests of Musical Club on October 9th

The new teachers in the city are cordially invited to be the guests of the Musical club at the first meeting which will be held at Elks hall Saturday, October 9th at 3 P. M.

The price of membership tickets has not been raised, as many seem to believe. Formerly, members were called upon to buy two concert tickets during the year in addition to the membership fee. In order to avoid this further collection, the price of the membership ticket is to include the concerts, so that one ticket admits to all, thus making the student fee $1.50, active $2.00 and associate $3.00.

O'Brien-Henry

Miss May E. O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick D. O'Brien, 716 1/2 Laurel street, and J. Clarke Henry were quietly married at 7:45 o'clock this morning at the Catholic parsonage, Rev. Father J. J. O'Mahoney officiating. Only the witnesses to the ceremony, Miss Mabel O'Brien of this city and Marc Atkinson of Crosby were present.

Following the service a delicious wedding breakfast was served to immediate relatives. The menu included roast turkey, dressing, cranberry sauce, baked whole Irish potatoes, fried sweet potatoes, salted almonds, cantaloupe, olives, celery, cake and coffee.

The young couple left shortly after for Crosby by automobile. From there they will go to Duluth, Hibbing and St. Paul for a wedding trip.

Both the bride and groom are well known among the young people of the city, the bride having grown to womanhood here. The bridegroom is employed as an engineer in charge of the valuation and maintenance department of the Minnesota & International railway.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry will be at home to their many friends at 719 Laurel street after November 1.

Wedding Announced

John Francis Hurley, formerly of Brainerd, and Miss Leah Adelaide Mageau of Crookston, were married at Crookston Tuesday, Oct. 5, at St. Anne's church.

GIRLS! GIRLS! TRY IT! STOP DANDRUFF AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Hair Stops Falling Out and Gets Thick, Wavy, Strong and Beautiful

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse" Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.—Adv.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE SAME AS LAST YEAR

Number is Less in Some Quarters and Greater in Others Making Practically Same Average

"AMONG THE BEST IN STATE"

English Composition Papers are so Marked When Returned From the State Examination

The school year 1915 opened up with about the same enrollment of pupils as one year ago, the number being less in some quarters and greater in others. The Whittier School enrolls the smallest number in years, a decrease of about twenty-five from that of last year. The Lincoln and Washington show corresponding increases while the enrollment at the Harrison is about the same. For several years the High School has been showing a regular increase of about twenty pupils per year which indicates that a greater percent of the pupils are remaining in school after completing the eighth grade.

This condition is very gratifying from an educational standpoint but it also presents a difficult problem in the matter of finding school room facilities as well as teaching corps for the steadily growing high school department. Five hundred and fifty pupils are now housed in the Washington building which means that every possible room including five basement rooms are in constant use every hour of the day.

During the past week State High School Inspector Phillips visited Brainerd and spent a part of two days inspecting the high school and the high school building. He expressed himself as well pleased with the quality of the work and the general attitude of students and teachers but he was not satisfied with the use of basement rooms for special state aided departments on account of the meagre facilities for light and ventilation.

Since the opening of the new year the ventilation at the Washington building has been greatly improved by the installation of a powerful new Sturdevant fan which delivers a much greater supply of fresh air to all parts of the building, except the basement rooms.

The department of agriculture opened for the first time this year, is beginning to get under way and will soon be well established as a most useful adjunct to the high school. For the present the southwest basement room directly across from the manual training room will be used as quarters for the department of agriculture while the laboratory work will be given in the general laboratory on the second floor. An elaborate display of grains and grasses from the state fair has been arranged about the walls for a study and exhibit purposes.

In a later issue Mr. Pflughoeft, the director of agriculture, will present an extended article on this new department, presenting the plans and purposes for the year and what under favorable co-operation and support it may become as an agricultural factor in this locality.

The commercial department as usual opened up with a large enrollment in almost all classes and the eight typewriters are kept buzzing from early morning until the close of school. The high school inspector reported that he had visited but few better equipped departments than that of our local high school. Mr. Killian hopes to carry out the general plan and policy so well started by his predecessor, Mr. Kefgen, and will attempt to make the work at every stage as nearly as possible meet the needs and requirements of practical office duties.

Mrs. Lawrence, our new director of Normal training work, has an unusually strong class of cadets in training for the work as teachers and all are either graduates of a Minnesota High School or will graduate with the present senior class. They will thus be able to receive at the close of the year a first grade certificate, which has never been the case heretofore. The work in the normal department both in the class room and the practice features is starting out under most favorable auspices and under the guidance of Mrs. Lawrence whose experience and standing in educational work is well established, gives promise of the most successful year this department has ever had.

On account of the increased size of the freshman class this year and the large number of girls enrolling for domestic art it became necessary to offer cooking exclusively in the high school this year, postponing the sewing until next fall. The sewing in the grades however will be continued as heretofore. Under the new law it is required that the special teachers in the departments receiving state aid, manual training, domestic science and commercial, shall give a certain amount of instruction each week in the eighth grade, thereby placing an additional requirement as to time on these departments

The cooking department has received this year a new piece of cooking apparatus donated to the school by Mr. R. W. Seelye, a very fine, large size, Detroit Fireless Cooker, and the girls have already had an opportunity to see a practical test of this useful piece of kitchen equipment. Miss Sheldon who has been teaching during the past year at Stout Institute and at Normal, Ill., has charge of the domestic art work and will be glad to have parents who may be interested visit her classes, while at work, on all school days except Friday.

The attendance for the first month 98%, is a very high record for all the schools. Attendance will probably receive more attention in the schools of Minnesota this year than in previous years on account of a change in the law relating to the state apportionment of school funds and school attendance. Heretofore state apportionment has been divided up among all the schools of the state on the basis of the number of pupils attending school for forty days or more. This meant that a district received as much from the state for a child who attended school forty days as for one who attended the entire time of 180 days. Under the new law the apportionment is strictly in proportion to the number of days attended during the year and the child who attended the full time would enable the district to draw nearly five times as much state aid as one who merely attended the minimum of forty days. It is obviously of interest to every citizen and taxpayer no less than to the teachers themselves to see that the attendance of children is kept regular all through the school year as the state money amounting to many thousands of dollars will be apportioned to each school according to the total attendance in days. As the law now stands the towns, that enforce the school attendance laws will be rewarded in dollars and cents for their diligence while the careless school districts will pay a corresponding penalty for their neglect. We would again suggest that all citizens report promptly any cases of non attendance of children at school.

The primary rooms of the several schools are all pretty well filled and some of them are even over crowded. Now that the work of the class has been in progress for more than a month new pupils who have never attended school before should not enroll until the beginning of the next semester as it is impossible for the primary teachers, with their large rooms to start any special classes. This does not apply to any room except the beginning primary rooms and in cases where children had had some assistance at home so that they could carry on the regular work of the class it would not cause the annoyance referred to above.

The last year's graduating class left as a memorial to the high school one of the most useful pieces of furniture that could have been selected. The gift was a beautiful steel filing case with compartments for filing and preserving all forms of high school cards, blanks, and records. Its convenience to the principal of the high school can scarcely be over-estimated and as a time-saver to both students and teachers in looking up matters concerning classification, grading and other data is invaluable.

In checking over the state examination papers returned from St. Paul the English composition papers have this endorsement in blue pencil on the outside: Written by the examiner: "These papers are among the best examined in the state" and indicate that the pupils are receiving good instruction in English." For the last few years a similar comment has been noted on the examination papers from either the eighth grade or the high school which is an incentive for the teachers to strive for still better results from year to year.

Two of the teachers in the Lowell school have during the summer completed the work required for a professional certificate of the first rank. This means a number of years of painstaking work with attendance at summer sessions at the State University part of the time and the passing of a rigid examination in advanced subjects. Miss Mary and Elizabeth Walsh are both to be congratulated over their efforts in this undertaking.

As a general suggestion to parents in connection with the success in their school work on the part of children attention might be called to some of the indiscriminate running about the streets at unreasonable hours for young children. Some of the neighboring cities, notably Duluth, is attempting to solve the problem to the enforcement of a curfew law. At all events parents who wish and expect their children to do well in school ought to know where the child is at night, under what influences and insist that a reasonable amount of time be given to school

Describe Conditions in Gallipoli Peninsula

BY WILBUR S. FORREST
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Sept. 20 (By Mail).—Even the dark silent past fails to escape the ravages of war on Gallipoli peninsula, writes a French surgeon to his English wife, describing shell-havoc on the ancient sarcophagi within sight of Achi Baba. He said: "A huge '210' shell has just fallen in front of a sepulchre, shut twenty centuries ago. The stone door burst open, revealing a room in which one could live, constructed with great regularity and lined with perfectly cut stones. Only a few bones were inside and they had turned to dust."

"While digging close by, two enormous earthen jars were found. They had been set side by side. One is broken and the other intact. In each jar is a skull and the remnants of a skeleton. Man and wife! They have slept together for twenty centuries. What profanation! What a crime to have interrupted a design which promised to be immortal."

A subsequent letter, received with the first, adds:

"The bravest man in the whole regiment, Adjutant G— was killed this morning. He was watching the Turkish soldiers, in their trenches, through his field glasses, at a loophole in the first line. They were only 200 metres away. A bullet passed through the loophole killing him instantly. It was he who was decorated on June 4 by General Gouraud for having killed six Turks with his own hand and capturing a machine gun."

"The body of G— had been left in a corner of Morte cemetery. I went myself to superintend the digging of the grave. Nobody was there to render a last homage or fire a salute. The regiment was too much occupied and too far away. So I asked for volunteers close by. Men came from the kitchens, from the machine gun section and from the artillery. Their uniforms were dirty their guns rusty. A sergeant of the Territorials gave the traditional commands. The little cemetery was not badly done."

"The season is rapidly changing", adds the surgeon. "The Gallipoli sky, which was always a limp blue and virgin of the smallest cloud, has been quite changed for the past ten days. It is going to rain and it will then turn cold. We are thinking of winter, and have begun to prepare winter quarters."

London (By Mail).—"The Big Show" (he meant the war), "has played the devil and all with the menagerie," confided the wild animal man on London Dock, gazing ruefully pound-and-pence wise at a flock of 20 Yankee skunks, "unsellable though denatured."

"An 'looka that camel; good worker, quiet, sound, well humped, grand flappy underlip; make any circus-going kids' eyes bulge. Yet can I sell him? Nup!'"

A putty-nosed monkey, "rare," 2 foxes, "one's a cub," 2 Rhesus (say zzzzzz in the middle), monkeys, "extra large," 3 mangabays, "1 white-whiskered and 2 sooty," 40 parrots, "assorted," and a Lapunda ape. He almost wept with a weather eye out for a buyer. But he might as well have wept in peace, for buyers there are not since the war began.

PISTOL BATTLE WITH OUTLAWS

One Desperado Is Wounded and Taken Prisoner.

OTHER ONE ESCAPES CAPTURE

Two Men Clash With Police at Two Places in Wisconsin—Are Believed to Be the Bandits Who Held Up and Robbed a St. Paul Road Train Last Sunday Night.

Milwaukee, Oct. 7.—Two desperadoes were brought to bay at Johnson's Creek and one was wounded and captured in a pistol battle with the police after they had engaged in a wild night maraud that took them half way across the state.

It is thought they are the men who held up and robbed the St. Paul road Olympian train at Glencoe Sunday night and who robbed another St. Paul road train in Washington about a week ago.

In the course of their plundering excursion they fought pistol battles with the police of two places and at one place robbed the officers of guns, money and clothes.

Since the robbery in the West men whose descriptions have been strangely similar have left a trail of robberies across the country. Gun play has figured in many of the crimes.

The first appearance of the two outlaws together was at New Lisbon. They boarded the caboose of a St. Paul road freight train and held up Conductor Michael Kell, brakeman J. J. Murphy and Oscar Sagen. The victims were stripped of money, watches and clothes.

Backed Up Against Barn.

In the Portage yards, forty miles away, Chief of Police Curry of Portage and an assistant tried to arrest the outlaws. The officers were greeted with a fusillade of shots and were backed up against a barn with their hands in the air and they were robbed of their revolvers, money and clothes, it is said.

They were released by their captors under threat of being murdered if they gave any alarm before the robbers could escape.

They sent a telegram to Watertown, however, requesting that all incoming trains be searched. Patrolman Arthur Doerr went to search a train which had arrived. He flashed his light into the first car and saw the men.

Without a word one of the men drew a pistol and pressed it against the nose of the officer. A click of the trigger followed, but there was no explosion of the cartridge.

Doerr dropped to the ground and the outlaws jumped back into the car. Doerr began firing at them and was joined by Lucius Bruegger. The outlaws fled, firing back a hail of bullets.

At Johnson's Creek the police were waiting for them. The outlaws again tried to fight, it is said. One was wounded, however, and the other fled, leaving his companion to be captured.

DRY STATE IS BATTLE CRY

Nothing Less Will Satisfy Demands of People, Says Wells.

St. Paul, Oct. 7.—Immediate statewide prohibition is the battle cry of the drys' state committee, according to a statement issued by George F. Wells, chairman. "Nothing less than this will meet or satisfy the present demand of the people," says the announcement.

BUYS MORE STEEL PLANTS

New Midvale Company Is Growing Very Rapidly.

New York, Oct. 7.—Announcement was made that the Midvale Steel and Ordnance company, a $100,000,000 corporation recently organized by William E. Corey, had, in addition to purchasing the Midvale Steel company, acquired three other concerns and had obtained an option on 300,000,000 tons of iron ore.

With the exception of the United States Steel corporation the new Midvale company becomes the largest steel concern in point of capitalization in the country.

PROHIBITIONIST HAS CHANCE

Free for All Race Foreseen for a Montana Judgeship.

Plentywood, Mont., Oct. 7.—The judgeship of the Seventeenth judicial district, comprising the counties of Sheridan, Valley and Phillips, over which Frank H. Utter of Glasgow presides, will be sought by Utter, John Hurley of Glasgow, T. W. Greer of Plentywood and County Attorney Paul Babcock of Sheridan county, while it is expected C. E. Comer of Medicine Lake will also enter the field. If Howard M. Lewis enters, as expected, there will be three candidates in the primaries from the Republican party in the persons of Hurley, Babcock and Lewis, while Utter and Comer will come from the progressive faction. In this event Greer, who represents the Prohibitionists, may be the leading factor.

GREECE PLAYING TWO SIDES AGAINST EACH OTHER

By J. W. T. Mason, for United Press

Greece, in typical Balkan fashion, has been trying to play two sides against each other and has brought about an unexpected crisis in southeastern Europe that may have a serious effect on the future fortunes of Hellenism.

The ministerial crisis at Athens is undoubtedly due to the landing of allied troops on Greek soil for operations against Bulgaria. The Greek government wanted this military reinforcement to be at hand in case Bulgaria attacked Greece; but the government didn't want to give formal consent to the presence of foreign troops so that Greek neutrality would not be compromised if Bulgaria kept the peace. So, apparently, a technical protest was made against the allied landing, while at the same time Greek officers seem to have either privately or publicly assisted at the disembarkation.

This equivocal attitude was unquestionably approved by Premier Venizelos. His action would be a proper course from the standpoint of self preservation, of the Greek nation were a unit in supporting the present ministry. But King Constantine believes there is a serious division of public opinion concerning the matter and this active opposition has compelled Venizelos to resign. Constantine's duty now is to find a premier who can command a majority of the votes in parliament. If he is unable to do this and if he still persists in thwarting M. Venizelos, then the situation will change and the king must be considered a revolutionist, trying to overthrow the Greek constitution.

M. Venizelos is the leader of pan-Hellenic who wants to see the glories of ancient Greece restored. In particular he wants to annex to Greece the coast of Asia Minor, which was once Greek in population and culture. This is the reward he hopes to gain from the Allies. But, there is a strong party in Greece that believes Greece could not hold the Asia Minor coast because of the large garrisons that would be necessary to keep the Turks in subjection. The majority of the Greek general staff is said to be of this opinion.

No certainty exists, therefore, that M. Venizelos can dominate the present situation.

 For erection of Co. jail, $30,000.00."

which resolution being seconded by Commissioner Crust was duly carried, all members voting aye."

Commissioner Oberg offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Commissioner Crust offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

"Whereas, the county board of the county of Crow Wing, state of Minnesota, has taken steps to acquire a suitable site for a new court house and jail to be erected in the city of Brainerd, and has determined to erect a new county jail as soon as may be,

PRESS SHOWING INTEREST

"Newspaper Week" in Minnesota May Be Big Success.

St. Paul, Oct. 6.—Every county in the state will be written up during "newspaper week," said John E. Klenitz, assistant immigration commissioner and member of the booster week executive committee.

The papers of Minnesota will devote from two to five pages to telling of the greatness of the state during the week," he said. "Booster matter telling about the state at large is being eagerly purchased by the country papers."

"From all indications now it can safely be said that the booster week is the best publicity stunt ever tried in the state. There are no knocks heard on the plan. All the newspaper men are boosting the proposition. "Some of the editors will get out extra editions. The 1,000,000 copies which were expected to be sent out of the state will go out as planned."

20 MILES OF TRENCHES IN REAR

Dr. Frank Davis Says it is Physical Impossibility to Unseat Germany in Belgium

2 YEARS SUPPLY OF MUNITIONS

Copper Enough for Two Years—Food Supplies of Germany and Austria

Dr. R. A. Belse, mayor of Brainerd, has returned from Rochester where he attended the state medical society meeting. While there he conversed with Dr. Frank Davis, of Minneapolis, who studied two years in Vienna, Austria. Dr. Davis is an American just three weeks from Berlin and his impressions of the war zone are of interest. He said:

"It will be a physical impossibility to unseat Germany in Belgium. Their first line of trenches is supported by parallel trenches at intervals and extending twenty miles to the rear. Germany and Austria are supremely confident of winning. There is no scarcity of food in Austria. True, they eat meat but three times a week and were short of white bread for a time."

"At Berlin three weeks ago the cafes served any kind of meat desired. Bread was plentiful and the menu prices had scaled no dizzy heights. Ordinary prices prevailed."

"There is no shortage of cotton. There appears to be copper enough for two years and it is said they have two years' munitions supplies on hand."

TOURS ABOUT BRAINERD

Exploring the Johnson & Roth Bakery and Sampling Coffee and Cake—Visiting Fred Luken's

On a still hunt for news and ads, the Dispatch reporter toured the city and came upon Johnson & Roth who have a nice bakery and are doing a fine business on Front street.

"Well, how is business?"

"Fairly good," said Louis, the junior partner.

"But of course we can talk better if you can eat. Now there is no need of our telling you of the fine coffee we make, of our luxuriant cream, of our 'kaffee kuchen' that melts in your mouth, of our cakes and pies. You shall sample them while you are here," continued Louis and the sampling was soon under way, and it was a feast.

Johnson & Roth do a good business and use an auto truck for deliveries and in many cases the pies and cakes and bread travel continuously in a stream from the mixing station to the oven and on to the truck and are served piping hot on the diner table which exercises the rare good sense to buy Brainerd made pastry and bread.

"There are three bakeries in Brainerd," commented the Dispatch man, "and it does not seem like encouraging home industries for Brainerd people to buy out of town bread. The three bakeries in Brainerd need all the customers they can get. They are primarily suppliers of home trade. They are not competing with Duluth or any other city for outside business, but they do resent the entrance of big bakery and bread houses in their home territory in Brainerd."

Mr. Head of the House and Mrs. Housewife, when next you buy bread or pastry, why not specify Brainerd bread? You will be aiding your own community and doing your part to increase the business of the bakeries in Brainerd.

From the bakery a side trip was made to the Fred Luken five and ten cent store. Mr. Luken is about to stage his anniversary sale. When he first started his store he had 1495 square feet of space, later increasing to 3220 feet, then to 4180 and at last to 5790 feet when the five and ten cent department at 712 Front street was added to the store at 710 Front. Mr. Luken's store will fairly hum with bargains when the anniversary sale starts up.

A SPLENDID GIFT

Offered by the Skauge Drug Co., a Popular Contest in Which Everyone Can Enter

As a rule the publishers of the Dispatch do not approve of every gift scheme or gift enterprise that comes along, because many of them have strings to them in favor of some covered or unknown plan which, if revealed, gives little opportunity for advantage to those who participate in the plan.

It is gratifying to know, however, that the well and favorably known firm, the Skauge Drug Co., have adopted a plan which is not subject to any of the criticisms named, but which is put forward by them simply for the purpose of securing the increased good will of this community. The plan shows this firm to be very liberal minded, as it means the sharing of a good part of their profit with their customers. What, of course, their contest is primarily intended to benefit the firm, at the same time it is sure to greatly advance the interests of some individual or organization.

The Skauge Drug Co. has purchased as chief prize a high grade standard piano worth $350. There are absolutely no conditions regarding the persons who are eligible to compete for the piano, no formal entry is necessary, as the purchase of goods at any time after the contest opens entitles the purchaser to become a contestant for the piano. It is understood of course, that Mr. Skauge's family, his salespeople and their families are barred from the contest. The piano will be awarded to the person or society securing the greatest value in certificates by April 1, 1916.

The certificates given with purchases are transferable from one party to another and if you do not wish to enter the contest yourself, you can transfer your certificate to any friend or society in which you may be interested.

TALKS 4600 MILES

By Wireless Telephone Bell Officials Send Message From Atlantic Coast to Hawaii

Wireless telephony from the Atlantic coast to Hawaii, 4,600 miles, a distance greater than from Seattle to Tokyo, Japan, is an accomplished fact. By the special wireless telephone developments which have been made by the engineers of the Bell Telephone System, speech was transmitted last Wednesday night from Washington, D. C., to a wireless station near Honolulu. This last triumph came but a few hours after Theodore N. Valli, the president of the Bell company, had talked by wireless from New York to John J. Carthy, its chief engineer, who was at Mare Island near San Francisco.

This wonderful wireless telephone message from Washington to Hawaii had to pass over the whole of the United States before it encountered the more simple wireless conditions which exist when sending over large bodies of water. For the purpose of this test the sending was done from a wireless station at Arlington, just outside of Washington. The receiving was done on a small wireless station specially erected for the purpose by the engineers of the Bell company at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. The results obtained in talking by wireless telephone from New York and Washington to San Francisco and Hawaii, were a culmination of long and very important investigations and discoveries which have been made by engineers of the Bell Telephone System. These investigations have extended over a considerable period. During the early spring of this year, as a result of the work already done, the engineers of the telephone company talked over distance of about 250 miles, using for the purpose an experimental tower which they had erected near Montauk Point, L. I., and a small tower borrowed for the purpose at St. Simon's Island, Ga.

The results of these tests so conclusively demonstrated the correctness of their work and its possibilities that steps were immediately taken to try distances comparable with those involved in trans-Atlantic telephony, and, indeed, even looking to trans-Pacific telephony. What the results of these further tests have been is shown by the talks to San Francisco and Hawaii.

Another interesting feature of the tests was the connecting of the wireless telephone apparatus with a wire telephone line. Mr. Valli in his talk used a wire from New York to Washington. At Washington, by special means invented and developed by the engineers of the Bell Company, the wires were connected to special wireless apparatus where the message went wirelessly to its destination.

The Bell Telephone officials believe that wireless telephony has an important place in the general scheme of communication. They expect that it will form a most important adjunct and extension to their existing means of communication, simplifying and supplementing but not substituting the wire service. It will enable communication with moving trains, ships at sea, and other places where it is impractical to extend wires. Telephone officials say that wireless telephony can never take the place of wire systems because wireless telephone systems are subject to serious interference from numerous conditions, atmospheric and others, and that the fact that anyone suitably equipped could listen in on a wireless telephone talk would be a serious limitation to its use.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK

Rev. Walter J. Smith Reports on Activities in Field of American Sunday School Union

Walter J. Smith, Sunday school missionary of the American Sunday school union, returned yesterday after spending a week in Todd and Ottertail counties, in the interests of Union Sunday school work, with George N. McCombs who is now the oldest union missionary in the state, with headquarters at Hewitt.

They visited several Union Sunday schools, and churches springing from Union Sunday schools. They also conducted several gospel services together taking offerings for the work of the American Sunday School Union.

In traveling over Todd and Ottertail counties, Mr. Smith was very much impressed with the richness of the soil, and the beauty of the country and the many beautiful farms and farm homes into which they as missionaries of the American Sunday School Union were gladly received. Mr. Smith will leave again tomorrow for Longville, Cass county, where a Harvest Home Festival and Union Sunday school rally will be held on Saturday, Oct. 9th. Four neighborhoods and four Union Sunday schools will take part in this festival and rally. A program has been carefully prepared by the missionary and a very enjoyable and profitable time is expected.

At Pine River Mr. Smith will be joined by Rev. M. A. Soper, American Sunday school missionary at Bemidji. Mr. Soper will deliver an address at the Longville rally.

A clever drama, wonderfully staged, cleverly directed and marvelously acted. It is overflowing with surprises.

WINSOME and CHIC is FLORENCE REED

Wonderful is her interpretation of Clyde Fitch's great success, "HER OWN WAY"—the phenomenal hit of the dramatic season in London. Clyde Fitch stands as the foremost American author and the scenarioized version of his great play leaves nothing to the imagination.

SEEK OCCUPANTS FOR FARM LANDS

Government Trying to Show Good Opportunities.

USE SOUTHERN PROPERTY.

One Mystery of Human Race Is Congestion in Cities of Foreigners Who Come to America—Wilson Detests Hearing Words of Psychological and Mental Suggestion.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Oct. 6.—[Special.]—"Back to the farm" is not going to be allowed to become an idle phrase if the agricultural department can accomplish all it has planned in the direction of inducing people to make use of farm lands of all kinds and produce crops for their own consumption and for market. The department is trying to reach people in cities and in small towns and to show them that farming presents better opportunities than they can possibly find in the cities. Officials of the department say that they are having a certain amount of success, enough to encourage them in the work.

It is one of the mysteries of the human race that so many of the foreigners who come to America persist in clustering in cities instead of going into the agricultural regions where there are better opportunities.

A Movement in the South.

Foreigners from southern Europe are going into the southern states and securing small tracts of land which they are using with good success. They are making small fruit farms and truck farms of these tracts and to quite an extent interfering with the southern idea of farming. Unlike the native whites, they are willing to work long and hard in the fields. The white people generally depend upon negro labor, but negro hired labor cannot compete with the industrious foreigners who know nothing but hard work. One reason for the demand throughout the south for immigration restriction is on account of the introduction of this new labor element into that section.

Ghosts in Mesa Verde.

"Little people" is the term which the Indians living near the Mesa Verde National park give to the ghosts, which, they believe, will destroy the telephone lines which the government has built to that wonderful region. This park covers the range and Mancos valley, where some prehistoric people of America once lived. The Indians believe these old caves are inhabited by "little people," who will take means to preserve their habitations in the old way and destroy improvements.

Psychology on the Links.

Even presidents get tired of certain words. Psychological and mental suggestion are not words which President Wilson likes to hear because the papers harp so much upon them when he used them in connection with the business condition of the country. One day on the golf links the president and his companion passed other players who courteously yielded to him. At the tee the president took an iron instead of a wooden club and partially apologized by saying that he never could drive with a wooden club from that tee without going into the ditch.

"A sort of mental hazard," remarked one of the players, using a well known golf term.

"Not at all; not at all," was the presidential response, and there was a stiffling in the presidential attitude. The players remembered there is such a word as "psychological," which means about the same thing.

Told on Charleston, S. C.

A man from Charleston was in France and had several meals with a fellow American. Each time he ordered snails, and it seemed as if he could not get enough of them, so the story runs.

"Don't you have snails in Charleston?" he was asked.

"Yes," he replied, "but we can't catch 'em."

His First Appearance.

Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia, who has become a national figure on account of his pronounced stand in the matter of American shipping, first came into national prominence when Cleveland was nominated the second time. No one knew much about the big Georgian who was one of the active assistants of William C. Whitney at Chicago; no one heard his name until after Cleveland was nominated, when Claude Bennett, the correspondent of the Atlanta Journal, said to a group of newspaper men: "Do you want a bit of cabinet gossip? Hoke Smith of Georgia for attorney general."

No one paid much attention to it, because no one knew Hoke Smith.

Will It Be Remembered.

If the time comes when Jim Mann is seriously considered for president will it be remembered that he was an insurgent in 1898 and refused to vote for the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill in 1909? Perhaps such things will be forgiven. There have been many insurgents in the past who have been regulars of a future time. There are remote and hoary old stories of a time when even Uncle Joe Cannon showed signs of insurgency. That was when he first came to congress. If a man can be insurgent enough to sandbag his way to leadership he becomes a regular.

DOUBLE YOUR SPUD YIELD

Select Your Seed Now Instead After the Crop is Harvested, Says Field Crop Specialist

Minnesota's potato yield might be increased almost 100 per cent if the farmers only would select their seed potatoes now instead of after the crop is harvested. This is the contention of C. E. Brown, field crop specialist for the state agricultural extension division. Brown has sent a number of circular letters explaining this to A. B. Hostetter, state agricultural supervisor for St. Louis county, to be distributed among St. Louis county farmers, says the News-Tribune.

The letters show that in selecting seed potatoes from the hills now, the farmer is better able to judge the qualities of the tubers to be used for seed purposes. It is declared also, that the Minnesota College of Agriculture advises farmers to dig by hand enough of their best hills for seed next year.

This course will mean a gain of 25 cents on every dollar previously received from one's potato field, it is claimed.

PRICES NEARLY 100 YEARS AGO

An Ohio Paper Publishes Price List as Appearing in Counter Book of the Date of 1825

The following are a few prices appearing in the counter book of 1825—on a few of the commodities and luxuries, prevailing in Eastern Ohio at that time, nearly a century ago, according to the Blue Valley Bulletin. The list is interesting especially when compared with prices in the same articles today. Whisky was then sold in grocery stores and brought 25 cents a gallon:

Eggs, 4c a dozen.
Butter, 8 cents a pound.
Sugar, 10 cents a pound.
Pepper, 50 cents a pound.
Coffee, 31 cents a pound.
Tea, $1.50 a pound.
Bacon, 6 1/2 cents a pound.
Whiskey, 25 cents a gallon.
Oats, 15 cents a bushel.
Wheat, 40 cents a bushel.
Corn, 25 cents a bushel.
Muslin, 20c and 37 1/2c a yard.
Calico, 36c and 50c a yard.
Flowered wall paper, 4 1/2c a yard.
Salt, 2 1/2 cents a pound.

HEARS VOICE BY WIRELESS

North Dakota University Scientist Picks Up Message.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 6.—Dr. A. H. Taylor of the university wireless station here overheard the operator of the Arlington wireless station at Radio, Va., speaking to a California station, he says.

Dr. Taylor was listening to the regular signals sent out from Bolinas, Cal., which station was communicating with the Honolulu station. He suddenly heard above the noise of the Morse signals the sound of a human voice. The test sentence was sent out by the Arlington station by means of a continuous wave equipment. The enunciation was clear and distinct and was easily understood.

The message was received at the university station on the new continuous wave receiver which was developed last year by Dr. Taylor.

WOULD POSTPONE TARIFF CHANGES

President Does Not Think Present Law Has Had Fair Trial.

WAR BLAMED FOR DEFICIT.

Propose Plan to Tax Manufacture of Munitions Because of Tremendous Profits That Have Been Made—Such a Method of Raising Additional Revenue Would Not Be Sufficient.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Oct. 7.—[Special.]—President Wilson has pointed out that the trade commission is fully empowered to act as a tariff commission, but the fact that it has not been directed to make examinations and reports upon tariff matters is a pretty fair indication that the president does not intend to have the tariff made a feature of the coming session of congress.

Members of congress and others have talked about the necessity of tariff legislation, but the president would like to have the present law given a trial before it is changed. He does not think it has had a fair trial owing to the war in Europe.

Proposed Tax on War Munitions.

The constitution debars the government from bringing an export tax on any article, but it has the power to tax any article of manufacture. On account of the immense profits that have been made by manufacturers of munitions it has been suggested that a tax be levied on the products. Of course that will hit those used in this country as well as in Europe, but the quantity for home consumption is almost negligible. But a tax on munitions would not be sufficient to meet present necessities at the rate the deficit is increasing; consequently there is talk of other methods of increasing the revenue.

Might Postpone Free Sugar.

By a simple enactment it is possible to postpone the date when sugar will become free and a revenue of $50,000,000 could be produced. A reason for such reductions can be found from the fact that the reductions already made on sugar have not reduced the price to the consumers. So far there is no indication that the administration has any plan for increasing the revenues.

Looked Like a Winner.

"He looks like a winner," was the comment of an admirer of John W. Weeks when Weeks was in Washington a short time ago. The Massachusetts senator was returning from one of several trips he made during the summer, upon which he has met and talked with many people.

There are many Republicans who would like nothing better than to have John W. Weeks in the White House. He is the kind of man that would suit them. They are not all standpatters, either. Some Progressives think highly of Weeks, T. R. among the number.

Pension Decrease.

The encampment of the Grand Army veterans in Washington brought sharply to mind how rapidly the ranks of civil war soldiers are thinning. While they were here a statement was published showing that in spite of liberal pension legislation there is a large decrease in the government pension payments. But there has been a decrease on account of the civil war soldiers for several years. The Spanish war payments have increased the appropriations to a considerable extent, and the increase of the regular army has also increased pension appropriations. Only a tremendous death rate among civil war soldiers could cause the decrease.

Still a Political Factor.

It has been supposed that the G. A. R. was much less of a political factor than formerly, but the latest votes on pension legislation in congress show that the soldier vote is still to be considered. The vote in itself is not so great, but the old Union soldiers have sympathizers, friends, relatives, all of whom want to have them properly cared for in their old age and who resent any action that looks like denying them full consideration.

When a coterie of southern Democrats and representatives joined in a fight upon pension legislation it made the northern Democrats squirm, for they knew that all such efforts would react upon the party in the north, where the old soldier is still an important figure.

Growing Anti-British Feeling.

It may be because Germany has shown such efficiency in war, or for other cause, but it is evident that there is a distinct anti-British sentiment growing about the national capital. There has been a great deal of hammering about the interference of Britain with American trade, and Americans do not like to have their property rights interfered with any more than they relish the sacrifice of American lives.

Will Be Missed.

Looking over a list of members of the coming house a prominent Democrat remarked: "Why, Jerry Donovan of Connecticut and Fowler of Illinois will not be in the next house. We shall miss them, but we shall not mourn." The fact is these two were real trouble makers and made as much fuss for the Democrats as the Republicans. In fact, more, for the Democrats were responsible for legislation and the Republicans did not care how much the men from Illinois and Connecticut "gummed the cards."

SECURITIES MARKET POOR

Electric Railway Receipts Show Big Increase.

San Francisco, Oct. 6.—Conditions during the past year have been so acute they "have almost completely destroyed the market for electric railway securities with the private investor." It was said by C. Loomis Allen of Syracuse, N. Y., in his address as president before the thirty-fourth annual convention of the American Electric Railway association here.

"A combined statement of twenty-five of the larger companies for the year ended June 30, 1915, showed a decrease of $2,083,394 in net income, compared with the previous year," Mr. Allen said.

ALFALFA AND OATS IN SAME STACK "ERUPT."

Pierre, S. D., Oct. 6.—A Lyman county farmer started a miniature volcano on his farm, to his financial loss, by attempting to stack alfalfa and oats in the same stack. The oats were somewhat green and spontaneous combustion resulted. The stack is burning in the center and pouring out a continuous plume of smoke.

UNITED STATES MAY BARE GERMAN PLOTS

Ready to Publish Details of Alleged Mexican Intrigue.

Washington, Oct. 6.—The department of justice is understood to be preparing to make startling disclosures of evidence in its possession as to efforts which have been made by German officials to foment trouble in Mexico as a means of embarrassing the United States during the critical period of the submarine controversy.

It is understood that the department's disclosures will set forth evidence that General Huerta had promised substantial support from his sources before he launched his plans for a revolutionary expedition into Mexico, which resulted in his arrest as he was about to cross the Texas border.

The attorney general's reported decision to make public selected excerpts of the documents which have been obtained by the secret service agents is the result of mature deliberation.

Much of the evidence to be dealt with is believed to have been in possession of the government at the time the arrest of General Huerta was ordered several months ago.

It is believed that a decision to disclose the alleged plot would not have been reached without consultation with the state department and possibly without the approval of the president himself.

GOETHALS REMAINS CANAL ZONE CHIEF

Decides to Stay on Duty and Combat Slides.

Panama, Oct. 7.—Major General George W. Goethals has withdrawn his resignation as governor of the Panama canal zone.

This fact was announced by General Goethals on his arrival on board the steamer Cristobal from New York after a vacation spent in the United States.

His action was taken, he said, in view of the recent slides in the Gaillard cut, which have closed traffic through the canal.

General Goethals said he would remain indefinitely—until such time as the condition of the canal would permit of his departure.

Further than to make this announcement and to say that he had cabled Secretary of War Garrison withdrawing his resignation, which was to have become effective Nov. 1, General Goethals had nothing to say concerning the canal.

RUSSIA MAY BUILD 10,000 AEROPLANES.

St. Louis, Oct. 7.—Russia is planning to build 10,000 aeroplanes at a cost of more than $10,000,000, according to Elmer Rae of this city, who will depart for New York, where he expects to sign a contract with an agent of the Russian government to supervise the building of engines for the gigantic aerial fleet.
Rae is twenty-seven years old and is a graduate of Cornell. He has been studying the construction of gasoline engines for several years.

FIRES ON THREE CHILDREN

Farmer Uses Shotgun on Party Picking Apples.

Penn, Ind., Oct. 7.—When August Bion found Harry, Goldie and Dorothy Sears gathering apples on a farm which their father, Bert Sears, had rented from him, he fired on them with a shotgun, injuring the girls so severely they probably will die. He then went to the Sears home and shot Mr. and Mrs. Sears, killing Sears instantly. After that he went to a nearby field and shot himself in the neck, dying instantly.

It is thought only the boy, Harry, will live.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat, which clogs Kidneys, then Back hurts and Bladder bothers you.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

COLE'S Brilliant Radiant HARD COAL HEATER

puts the ordinary old style base burner on the junk pile.

It has clearly proven that fuel is wasted in heating up heavy, useless cast iron ornaments.

It has unmistakably demonstrated that Cole's Hot Blast principle is true fuel economy—that its air tight draft control makes one ton of hard coal do as much as two tons in an air leaking representative of the old style heater.

If you are seeking fuel economy and heating efficiency, you have no other possible choice than this remarkable heater.

Take it from us that it has no equal. You will waste time to "shop around." We know and are telling you straight.
